

Copyright

Authors are requested to assign copyright to the Royal Microscopical Society (RMS). However, authors may make copies of their own articles without seeking permission from the RMS, provided that such copies are for free distribution only (they must not be sold) and provided that infocus is properly acknowledged (issue number, month and page number should be given). Permission to reproduce material from infocus Magazine in other publications will not be given to third parties except with the consent of the authors concerned.

Authors are responsible for obtaining permission to reproduce copyright material from other sources. Approval for reproduction/modification of any material (including figures and tables) published elsewhere should be obtained by the authors before submission of the manuscript and the source of the material should be properly acknowledged. Authors are responsible for any copyright fee involved.

I/we .....

Hereby assign copyright for this article to the RMS.

Hereby confirm I am the copyright holder of all the material contained in this article. Where it is not the case that I am the copyright holder I confirm that I have obtained permission for the reproduction/modification for the material.
