Technology Specialist Network

Bringing together technology specialists from across the UK

Technology Specialists are technical experts in their field in UK higher education and research.

To share best practice for technical specialists across the UK, and in particular to meet others in similar roles, while learning to navigate the funding opportunities and challenges in the UK setting. Our network is keen to welcome new members to the network, from all levels and disciplines across the UK

Funding from TALENT has enabled the establishment of this network.
